

Good Greetings Dear Friends, it is Jesus. I am here. I am here. I am here with each and everyone of you wanting to speak now of the timelines past that have caused a misrepresentation of who I am.

I am wanting to bring clarity and raise new awareness around the energetic collective construct that has skewed my imprint upon this planet.

Yes, it is true, there are beings who are in the truest harmonic resonance with my innate nature and wholeness however, there are fractals of misrepresentation that is causing distress and turmoil within beings physical forms when they hear me speak.

I Am You. I sit side by side with you. I am a holy aspect of God as are you. I am the light that is the light of God which is the light that is you. We share a similar frequency that cannot be altered because we are One. I wish to break the old paradigm and dogma that has been created around my name and my state of beingness.

I wish to declare that any and All old constructs dissipate so that you can hear me and see me as you. I am here in Divine service as you are here in divine service. I am here to walk the pathways uncharted to create new pathways paved with light. I am here with you side by side, shoulder to shoulder.

I am here to remind you Dear Ones of who you are, your Grandeur, your Majesty your Wholeness your Creatorship your inherent light. I look into your eyes and I see a reflection of me. I look into your eyes and I see the totality of the Creator God's light.

I wish for you to hear me speak. I wish to share stories with you that will unshackle your tormented visions of past incarnations where you suffered at the hands and will of another. I wish to offer you new insight into the purity of your essence, your Godliness is unfiltered. It is pure, it is radiant light that can never be diminished. I wish for you to feel a sense of grace and peace and calm within your beingness as you unfold your journeys here on Earth. I wish to talk and walk with you as a friend. I wish to offer you my wisdom, my visions, my knowing that may be unseen to your awareness. I am here with you as your friend first, and foremost. This is how I wish for you to see me. Beings have altered my essence and have put me on a pedestal where my essence is deemed unreachable, noble, better than, strived for but never attained. This is the falsehood that I wish to eradicate in this time space reality.

As Mary Magdalene has reclaimed her divine essence to be seen for who she is. It is my desire to be seen with eyes unblurred. I have never been a God that is to be worshiped or looked upon as an external Messiah. I am God incarnate as are you. I am here to show you the way to your own divinity, your own healing, your own path of creation. I am no other than you. I walked the Way for you to walk the Way of your own sovereign light.

I am your Friend Dear Ones, I am your friend. See me in this light and allow your heart to open to allow all the old constructs to fall by the wayside. Allow yourselves to see yourselves as the embodied Divine Messiahs that you are.

Does it cause you dissonance when I call you a Messiah? Does it bring forth feelings of unworthiness? of discord? of falsehood? of misrepresentation? This is the very pulse of dissonance that I wish for you to feel Dear Ones. Feel into the dissonance when I say that you are a Messiah that you are God's Light that you are omnipresent light, The Christed Light within human form. The Christed Light is none other than the light of the Creator, the Holy Flame, the Buddha Light, the Way, the Shekinah, the Remembering, the Wholeness of All That Is. The Christed

Light is your inherent Birth Flame that can never be extinguished.

Bring rise to the sensations of disconnect when you feel this frequency. You see this is the very frequency that necessitates your awareness, your focus, your deep embodiment of. For when you allow yourselves to transmute the disharmony, the discord, the entangled tendrils within your solar plexus, when you hear me say that you are the Messiahs, you are the Gods you are the Creator's Lights, you will step into a new state of consciousness. You will claim the crown that has always been yours. You are the children of God. You are the lights of God. You are the extension of God Source Consciousness. You are no other, you are it.

And this my friends is the first step in embodying your divinity. It is the first signpost, the first initiation in your return home. The Ascended One in human form is merely the reclaiming of your inherent light, your crown that has been bestowed to you by the creator Herself.

The time is now Beloved Ones, for you to shift the vibratory constructs of dissonance and step into yourselves to find yourselves. Dear Hearts, what you will discover is that you were never lost, you were never lost. You were merely focused upon other, upon external, upon the external thought form of searching for God, the Way, the Path, the Destiny, when all along it is You. It is You. It is within You, Dear Ones. It has been within you all along.

I love you.

I walk with you.

I am here, in All Ways, Always.

It is Jesus.
